

Booz Allen Hamilton Receives a $92M Task Order to Provide Cybersecurity and Technical Support to the U.S. Navy's Information Assurance and Cyber Security Program Office for 5 Years

Jul 24, 2018

MCLEAN, Va.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Jul. 24, 2018-- As a leader in the field of information warfare, the U.S. Navy is constantly evolving capabilities to defend naval information systems in the hostile environment of cyberspace. To safeguard maritime systems against adversarial cyberattacks, the Navy relies on the Information Assurance and Cyber Security Program Office (PMW 130) to acquire cybersecurity products and services. In support of the mission of PMW 130, the Space and Naval Warfare Systems Command \(SPAWAR\) has awarded Booz Allen Hamilton (NYSE: BAH) a $92M task order in February to provide cybersecurity, technical, and program management services to PMW 130 over a five-year period.

"As cybersecurity threats increase, we are partnering with the U.S. military to ensure we out pace our adversaries," said Jennie Brooks, vice president at Booz Allen. "Booz Allen's team of technologists and cybersecurity experts will build upon our current relationship with the U.S. Navy to uphold cyber dominance in support of the safety and success of naval warfighters."
