

Booz Allen to Develop Prototype System for Space Force's Space-Based Interceptor Program in Support of Golden Dome

May 04, 2026

MCLEAN, Va.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--May 4, 2026-- Advanced technology company Booz Allen Hamilton (NYSE: BAH) today announced it was awarded an Other Transaction Authority agreement by the U.S. Space Force Space Systems Command as part of Golden Dome for America's Space-Based Interceptor (SBI) program. The award focuses on the development and delivery of a prototype system for space-based missile defense.

"Booz Allen is uniquely positioned to field emerging capabilities that drive the critical mission of Golden Dome for America," said Angela Wallace, executive vice president. "Over the last decade, we have invested in space-based missile defense to deliver advanced technology to the mission at speed. We look forward to our continued partnership with the Department of War to advance the future of homeland defense."

The global strategic landscape has changed, and a new generation of threats hold the homeland at risk. Golden Dome for America's USSF SBI program aims to address this gap by developing and deploying a proliferated Low Earth Orbit constellation of interceptors capable of boost, midcourse, and glide phase engagements.

"Booz Allen's decades of command and control and missile defense experience paired with our advanced software and AI solutions deliver a modern approach to the SBI mission with a performance-first mindset," said Katie Carr, an engineering director in Booz Allen's national security business.

Booz Allen has served for more than 60 years as a space program partner for defense, intelligence, and civil agencies and is the leading provider of AI to the federal government. Read more about Booz Allen's AI capabilities and Space solutions.
