FORWARD LOOKING SAFE HARBOR STATEMENT

- Certain statements contained in this presentation and in related comments by our management include “forward-looking statements” within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Examples of forward-looking statements include statements that do not directly relate to any historical or current fact. In some cases, you can identify forward-looking statements by terminology such as “may,” “will,” “could,” “should,” “forecasts,” “expects,” “intends,” “plans,” “anticipates,” “projects,” “outlook,” “believes,” “estimates,” “predicts,” “potential,” “continue,” “preliminary,” or the negative of these terms or other comparable terminology. Although we believe that the expectations reflected in the forward-looking statements are reasonable, we can give you no assurance these expectations will prove to have been correct.
- These forward-looking statements relate to future events or our future financial performance and involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors that may cause our actual results, levels of activity, performance or achievements to differ materially from any future results, levels of activity, performance or achievements expressed or implied by these forward-looking statements. A number of important factors could cause actual results to differ materially from those contained in or implied by these forward-looking statements, including those factors discussed in our filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), including our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2023, which can be found at the SEC’s website at www.sec.gov. All forward-looking statements attributable to us or persons acting on our behalf are expressly qualified in their entirety by the foregoing cautionary statements. All such statements speak only as of the date made and, except as required by law, we undertake no obligation to update or revise publicly any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.

ENDNOTES

- 1 Slide data as of September 2023. Booz Allen defines AI Tech Talent as one of the following job classifications: Advanced Data Scientist / Researcher, Artificial Intelligence Solution Architect, Data Engineer - Big Data, Data Scientist, or Machine Learning Engineer. Excludes approximately 1,700 Software Engineers who often provide critical support for software components for AI projects and who are well positioned to be upskilled into AI job classification through our Booz Allen training offerings. Education levels, majors, and certifications are as self-reported by employees.
 - 2 AI Revenue is Booz Allen's estimate of revenue accrued, or expected to be accrued, in FY24 as a result of work attributable to AI. This calculation estimates the portion of work of individual contracts that are attributable to AI and takes into account current contracts as well contracts in the pipeline (weighted for Booz Allen's expected likelihood of winning the work) and the estimated number of AI-qualified staff available to deliver this work.
