Booz Allen Announces Recent Department of Homeland Security Wins Under $11B Technical, Acquisition, and Business Support Services (TABSS) Contract

McLean, Virginia — Booz Allen Hamilton today announced it was awarded two, five-year contracts under the Department of Homeland Security's (DHS) Technical, Acquisition and Business Support Services (TABSS) $11 billion multiple-award, Indefinite Delivery Indefinite Quantity contract vehicle. The wins, awarded on November 30, 2012 and February 15, 2013, are to support DHS and its components with program management, engineering, technology, business and financial management, and audit support services.

Both support the acquisition life cycle services needed to assist with the cross-organizational mission of DHS.

"We have provided critical support to DHS since its inception, and have the functional capability and in-depth knowledge of DHS and its component agencies needed to successfully deliver against the broad range of support services that the TABSS vehicle will provide," said Chris Kelly, Booz Allen Senior Vice President. "At Booz Allen, we've been thinking a lot about how we can help DHS realize the full potential of its capabilities and achieve its mission goals during its next decade. The TABSS vehicle will allow us to help DHS adopt a strong, future-facing strategy and field capability against the aggregated homeland security and law enforcement mission."
